ORGAN[®] NEEDLES

Embroidery scissors

American Embroidery Supply offers 4" appliqué scissors, style 702, that are specifically designed for cutting needlework, one layer of fabric, thread, stabilizer or paper. The curved blades make it possible to safely cut close while keeping the cutting edge above the fabric's surface and the sharp points are ideal for getting to hard-to-reach places. The scissors are made of stainless steel and come with a plastic sheath to protect them when not in use.

Specialty needles

Diamond Needle Corporation adds a variety of Organ Needles to the company's already extensive line. The new additions include style PHx7BA #19 needle for chenille work. It is said to offer smoother stitching, higher production and is now available for immediate delivery. The PHx7BA #19 needle is an alternative to Organ's PH-C70, PH-C70SB and PH-C120 needles for Tajima Chainstitch/Chenille machines.

Performance-wear stabilizer

Cotswold introduces Tech Weave which is a cutaway embroidery stabilizer specifically designed for use on performance wear. Constructed of 50/50 polyester/rayon it features low shrinkage, which decreases puckering and provides a stable foundation that keeps stitches looking sharp and in registration. When stitched on the bias it is said to stretch with the fabric reducing the stress on stitching. It is available in white and black, is washable and dry-cleaner friendly.
